

Set Sail This Summer with Nautical Paint Hues

Color Tips from the Rohm and Haas Paint Quality Institute

Crisp blues, bright whites, a dash of red. With summer just around the corner, there is no better way to celebrate summer's arrival than to create a sea-faring environment in your living space. Through the simple use of paint hues, a single room or your entire home can become a harbor for family and friends. Incorporate these easy paint ideas and treat your family to a day at the beach without ever leaving the driveway. This year, "vacation" in your own living space!

Happy Painting,

Debbie Zimmer

Debbie Zimmer, Editor - dzimmer@rohmmaas.com

- project planner
- decorative techniques
- room inspiration
- digital color wheel
- DIY feature & archives
- newsletter archives

Traditional navy blue coupled with crisp white evokes a living space reminiscent of a beach vacation. Using blue and white, paint wide nautical stripes and finish with a band of red around the ceiling. Update furniture with a new coat of white paint and decorate with seashells and sailboats.

Create a soothing ocean getaway in your bedroom or bath by incorporating sandy tans, sea glass greens and aqua blues. For a child's room, use beach towels and surfboards as summer color inspiration.

Not ready for an entire room makeover? Transform a foyer into a welcoming reception area by simply painting an accent wall in a summer-like hue complementary to your current color scheme. Sunny yellow, lime green or crisp blue are the perfect paint colors to create a vacation entranceway.

subscribe

unsubscribe